Employers are interested in Rady MBAs because they show both a mastery of business and management fundamentals and a passion for innovation. Our students work for large and small companies in diverse industries. While many are interested in the life sciences and technology sectors, the Rady focus on innovation resonates with companies across a broad spectrum – from financial services and consulting to consumer products, entertainment and energy. The business skills our students gain give them strong advantages in the MBA employment marketplace and in the workplace – and bring employers back to Rady for future MBA interns and career hires.

We utilized Rady School interns for two separate projects within our business development group. In addition, we also hired Rady School students in our marketing department. Their contributions were significant, and they were high-performing, hard-working, dependable professionals. The partnerships with Rady were positive experiences for all."

Corporate Presentations
These events allow employers to communicate with potential candidates for internships and career opportunities. A formal company overview is typically followed by student questions. Sessions are reserved on designated evenings from 5:00 p.m. – 5:50 p.m. and 6:00 p.m. – 6:50 p.m.
