
JO DEE CATLIN JACOB

EDUCATION

AB with distinction, Stanford University, 1973

MA Education, Pepperdine University, 1976

Federal Executive Fellow, American Enterprise Institute, Washington DC 1990

Fellow, Chief of Naval Operations Strategic Studies Group XIII, 1995

Harvard Business School Strategic Perspectives in Non-Profit Management course, 2005

TEACHING EXPERIENCE

MILITARY FACULTY, NATIONAL DEFENSE UNIVERSITY, WASHINGTON DC (1990 -1992)

Full time instructor and leader of Nuclear Defense Industry Study Group. Courses taught to joint services senior military officers in North East Asia Regional Security, Public Policy Formulation (Think Tanks), Mobilization for National Security, Logistics, and a full semester devoted to Nuclear Defense Industries (weapons, energy and waste).

FACULTY, U.S. NAVAL ACADEMY, ANNAPOLIS, MD. (1997 -1999)

Part time instructor for 3-unit undergraduate core course in Ethics (Moral Reasoning for Naval Leaders). Taught 2 sections twice weekly to 20 students/class in addition to principal duties as Deputy Superintendent for Operations, U.S. Naval Academy.

LECTURER, RADY SCHOOL OF MANAGEMENT, UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA, SAN DIEGO LA JOLLA, CA. (2016 -PRESENT)

Developed curriculum for a new 4-unit undergraduate upper division elective, Social Entrepreneurship (MGT 167). First class offered Spring 2016, and subsequently taught every academic year thereafter.

PUBLICATIONS

Beyond the Hoppo Ryodo: Soviet-Japanese-American Relations in the 1990's. AEI Press (1990)

Bounding the Possibilities: Strategic Predictions for Threats to U.S. Maritime Forces toward the year 2000. Chief of Naval Operations Strategic Studies Group XIII White paper (1995)

CAREER SUMMARY

U.S. Naval Officer (1974-2001). Retired at the rank of Captain. Command assignments: Navy Recruiting District Seattle (1992-1994) and Naval Station Guam (1999-2001). Professional expertise in general unrestricted line (operations), personnel and training, military logistics, and international security affairs.

Chief Executive Officer, Girl Scouts San Diego (2001-2016). Leadership of a major 501(c)(3) organization, serving 42,000 Girl Scouts and adult volunteers in Southern California.

CONTACT INFORMATION

2665 Fifth Avenue #408, San Diego CA 92103

jo.dee.jacob@gmail.com

Cell (619) 675-3200